

GMB'S FREE LEGAL SERVICE £45 MILLION FOR MEMBERS IN 2008

GMB's free Legal Service won over £45 million for 13,110 GMB members who took advantage of its services in 2008 and has been doing so for many years. Over the last ten years the GMB Legal Service has won an average of £1 million a week for GMB members.

GMB's free legal advice service is an integral part of GMB membership, for it is entirely covered by your weekly contribution with no additional charges whatsoever.

Some employers who promote legal advice schemes charge their employees for this benefit. Is this because the employers can pick and chose their solicitors for their convenience?

GMB provides free legal advice and assistance to its members using independent solicitors on all employment matters including, unfair dismissal and discrimination cases. Accidents at work and road traffic accidents (for members and their families) are also covered including free wills for new members.

GMB—PROMOTING FREEDOM OF CHOICE

GMB believes that all workers should have freedom of choice as to whether they join an organisation at work, whether that's a trade union like GMB, which is independent or a legal assistance scheme run by the employer?

Employers who offer free membership enrolment into their legal assistance schemes are not offering freedom of choice, nor are they free, for what employer would pay for legal action against itself?

As well as representation in your workplace GMB membership covers the full cost of any legal action resulting from your employment. No deduction is made from any compensation payment won—100 per cent goes to the member.

If you are not yet a GMB member then join now online at www.gmb.org.uk/join or complete the freepost form overleaf and return it to GMB and be covered for accidents, injuries and mistreatment at work.

If you are already a GMB member and need to make a personal injury claim or access the GMB Legal Service or just find out more then contact your local GMB Workplace Organiser.
